

R&D centre & Herbarium

- The department has a R & D centre which was initiated by Dr. P. Gogoi, who retired from this institute in 2006.

•The Herbarium of the department has a very rich collection of specimens belongs to different groups of plants.

Students Laboratory

Departmental Instrumentation Laboratory

Botanical Garden

- The department has a botanical garden covering around 2 acre of land with collection of local, exotic, rare and endangered plant species
- Presently about 300 plant species are available in the garden that have economically as well as ecologically importance.

